Two Kinds of Promises

There are two kinds of promises, and the Big Book talks about both: There's drunk promises to myself and there's sober promises offered through AA.

In "Bill's Story" he talks about a business opportunity which vanished after he went on a "prodigious bender." Bill writes: "I saw that I could not take so much as one drink. I was through forever." He tells us that he "had written lots of sweet promises" but that this time he meant business. And he really did. But not long after, he came home drunk.

I was very familiar with that kind of promise: one New Year's Eve I made the promise to quit drinking. Twelve days later I was in the drunk tank, again.

But there's also the kind of promise that the program of Alcoholics Anonymous guarantees.

Later in "Bill's Story" he's sitting in the kitchen with his newly sober friend having gone over what was essentially the basis of the 12 Steps.

HELP!!

"My friend promised," Bill writes, that "when these things were done, I would enter upon a new relationship with my Creator; that I would have the elements of a way of living which answered all my problems."

But again, when it came to my drinking, my track record with promises were, well, less than promising. All I could do was make promises I couldn't keep.

But the promises described in the Big Book are different. They're the results of taking certain steps; actions which change us. In the chapter "We Agnostics" we're told that "we could wish to be moral, we could wish to be philosophically comforted, in fact, we could will these things with all our might, but the needed power wasn't there. Our human resources, as marshalled by the will, were not sufficient; they failed utterly."

Unaided, my promises to myself failed utterly.

The problem? Lack of power.

The solution? A power greater than myself.

The result? A solution to my problems.

So, according to AA, when I take certain steps, I will change and good things will come about in my life. Like staying sober and being happy about it.

AA promised me that. And I have found this to be the case.

Without exception.

A Turning Point

I was asked by my sponsor to write about a turning point in my recovery. As any good alcoholic, I procrastinated until the last moments before sitting down and writing. As I thought on what to write, I had to look at the definition of a "turning point." A turning point is "a time at which a decisive change in a situation occurs, especially one with beneficial results. Once I understood the true meaning of a turning point, I was able to sit and begin writing.

In my 14 years of sobriety there have been many turning points that have been life changing. The moment I completed step one, and I admitted that I was powerless over alcohol, or step two when I came to believe that God could restore me to sanity. There have been many, but I will talk about the one that had the most powerful impact. I was about 6 months sober and was really struggling with many aspects of the program and wondering why I should continue on this journey. I did not feel in my soul what the program could do for me and what I saw it do for others. Nor was I able to share this program with others in a way that was meaningful.

> "You do not have to do this alone. You never have to be alone again, and you will be okay."

One night after a meeting a bunch of us were outside the club house for a meeting after a meeting talking. A young man that had come to his first meeting was sitting at a picnic table with his head down. A man we all knew walked over and sat down; this was a man that many did not like. He began speaking with this young man that struggled with being an alcoholic, as a matter of fact, he was a little intoxicated. As we all sat there looking at this man that we considered crazy, inappropriate, loud, obnoxious and many other things, began to speak. We were shocked speechless when this man seamlessly laid out the first 164 pages of the Big Book. He spoke clearly and concisely and explained the alcoholic problem and how to solve it. He spoke with such conviction and passion when explaining the extraordinary possibilities of growth, and what the program had to offer. As the young man sat there and cried, I could see him surrender slowly before my eyes. Everyone was watching in silence; then the man said, "You do not have to do this alone. You never have to be alone again, and you will be okay."

At that moment I knew that I was where I belonged. This man showed me that what I had been searching for my whole life could be found in the rooms of Alcoholics Anonymous with the fellowship that I have craved my whole life. There have been many days over the past 14 years that I have struggled, and when that happens, I often look on that night and I know these truths. I will be okay, and I never have to be alone again.

ARE YOU LOOKING FOR SERVICE WORK? The OKC Intergroup Service Office needs Phone Volunteers!

Shifts are two hours long, Monday through Friday. You may work one shift a week as a regularly scheduled volunteer or more as a substitute. Examples include: Tuesday from 1-3 or Fridays from 9-11. There is no sobriety minimum, but you MUST be an alcoholic in recovery. For more information, please contact the Intergroup Office at 405-524-1100. It is a great way to learn about meetings throughout the OKC Metro and the rest of Western Oklahoma!

Shifts are overnight on weekdays (6pm to 7am) or one of three shifts on the weekends (7am to 12pm, 12pm to 6pm, or 6pm to 7am). A volunteer must be sober for at least one year and must have a home group they regularly attend. Positions become available regularly, so if you are interested, please call us at 405-524-1100 for more details. This is an outstanding way of being the alcoholic's first contact with AA. We have volunteers who will speak with them day or night. You become the bridge between the two.

Pamphlet of the Month:

The pamphlet we picked for November is AA in Treatment Settings. The Big Book tells us that:

Practical experience shows that nothing will so much insure immunity from drinking as intensive work with other alcoholics. It works when other activities fail. Pg 89

And, since from the beginning of AA the message has been brought into hospitals, it only makes sense to have a pamphlet dedicated to this form of service work.

This pamphlet answers some important questions about taking meetings into treatment facilities, such as:

Do professional treatment settings really want AA?

How do AA members work with these treatment settings?

What qualifications should an AA member have to carry the message...?

How do we make contact with treatment settings?

What types of AA meetings are held in treatment settings?

How do you get AA meetings started in a treatment setting?

These questions and more are answered in full in this month's pamphlet.

A Declaration of Unity (to be found on the back of many pamphlets):

This we owe to AA's future: To place our common welfare first; to keep our fellowship united. For on AA unity depend our lives and the lives of those to come.
